There is just so much rain! I was awakened early this morning by a thunder storm! I quickly snuggled back into bed. Yesterday, SHE read to the children of Old Bethpage Elementary School in Plainview, NY. SHE mentioned seeing her old friends Evan, Justin and Emily! I wish I could have been there to see them, but she promised I would meet them soon! Oh well, I hope the sun shines today.....I better get HER a Mother's Day present.
